

Our newsletter focuses on issues relating to historical dialogue, historical and transitional justice, and public and social memory. More details about items in our newsletter (and more!) can be found on our website.

Both our website and newsletter provide information and resources to encourage innovative interdisciplinary, transnational and comparative research. They are housed at the Institute for the Study of Human Rights at Columbia University, New York City.

Columbia University is delighted to be hosting the 8th Annual Conference of the Historical Dialogues, Justice & Memory Network, "Prevention Activism: Advancing Historical Dialogue in Post-Conflict Settings," December 12-14, 2019. For a description of the conference, click here; for the program, click here. This event is free and open to the public, but registration is required. Please register here.

Highlights of the program include:

- Keynote Address by Dr. Pablo De Greiff
- 30th Anniversary of the Human Rights Advocates Program Exhibit
- Conference Reception
- Over 100 speakers from a wide range of fields

"In the midst of a turmoil, reflecting upon the past is obviously not the first thing one may think of or deem beneficial. Yet, notwithstanding the exuberance shown by a significant sector of the Lebanese people, vis-a-vis their 'October 17 Revolution,' and the dispiritedness shown by the others, a look back seems imperative." So begins the first issue of Lebanon-in-Conflict, a newly launched newsletter of UMAM Documentation and Research and HAYYA BINA that seeks to examine Lebanon's state of conflict and its historical underpinnings.
