Dear Colleagues:

Welcome to the twenty-fourth issue of the Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network News (formerly Historical Justice and Memory Research Network News). The Network, which operates from www.historicaldialogues.org, provides information and resources for scholars and activists working on issues of historical justice and social and public memory to encourage innovative interdisciplinary, transnational, and comparative research.

The Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network is a joint initiative of the Historical Justice and Memory Research Network (HJMRN), housed at the Swinburne Institute for Social Research, Swinburne University of Technology, in Melbourne, and Columbia University's Alliance for Historical Dialogue and Accountability (AHDA), at the Institute for the Study of Human Rights (ISHR) in New York. It draws on an international team of collaborators and affiliates.

We are excited to launch the first paper in our Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network Working Paper (WP) Series. This new series features unpublished texts by emerging scholars, practitioners and others on issues of historical dialogue, historical and transitional justice, and public and social memory. It offers an opportunity for emerging scholars and practitioners who wish to workshop their papers within an intellectual community. The first paper of our series is authored by Michelle Bellino, one of our series co-editors and a doctoral candidate at Harvard University's Graduate School of Education. The discussant is Peter Seixas, a professor in Curriculum & Pedagogy at the University of British Columbia. We invite you, the members and followers of the Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network, to add your own comments and questions!

We also draw your attention to our latest book reviews, including:

- Olivera Simic's review of Kathryn Sikkink (2011), The Justice Cascade

Read these and other reviews on our website.

If you have any information about calls for papers, new publications, forthcoming conferences, or jobs that could be publicized in future newsletters or via the Dialogues website, please email us at dialogues@columbia.edu.

Best wishes,

Carla De Ycaza
