Newsletter No. 33

June 12, 2014

Follow us on Twitter and like us on Facebook!

Dear Colleagues:

Welcome to the new issue of the Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network News (formerly Historical Justice and Memory Research Network News). The Network, which operates from www.historicaldialogues.org, provides information and resources for scholars and activists working on issues of historical justice and social and public memory to encourage innovative interdisciplinary, transnational, and comparative research.

The Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network is a joint initiative of the Historical Justice and Memory Research Network (HJMRN), housed at the Swinburne Institute for Social Research, Swinburne University of Technology, in Melbourne, and Columbia University's Alliance for Historical Dialogue and Accountability (AHDA), at the Institute for the Study of Human Rights (ISHR) in New York. It draws on an international team of collaborators and affiliates.

We are pleased to present the third working paper in our new series of unpublished papers on issues of historical dialogue, historical and transitional justice, and public and social memory. The paper, "The 'Vitality' of Death: Biopolitics and State Violence in Rural Colombia," is brought to us by Heidi Andrea Restrepo Rhodes, with comments by Diana Gomez, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. We invite you, the members and followers of the Dialogues on Historical Justice and Memory Network, to add your own comments and questions. Thanks for reading!

Request for information about best practices in the field of historical dialogue. Please send us success stories and examples of historical dialogue that you know about or you've conducted or carried out that involve historical dialogue as a tool in conflict resolution or post-conflict education. Topics can be, but are not limited to, categories such as: historical commissions; addressing national trauma in memory; inclusion of historical acknowledgement in conflict resolution agreements; education and textbooks; museums. Please do NOT send activities that are framed entirely in a judicial context. We look forward to hearing from you at dialogues@columbia.edu; check our website and newsletter for updates on activities that might help you in your HD endeavors.

We are currently updating the database of researchers on our website (see <http://historicaldialogues.org/affiliates/database-of-researchers/>). The database lists researchers who working on issues of historical dialogue, historical and transitional justice, and public and social memory and have published at least one substantial article in an international refereed journal. If you would like to be included in that database, or if you would like to update your details, please send an email to historicaljustice@swin.edu.au.

Book Symposium- Special Call for Contributions

The Dialogues will be hosting a book symposium during the conference to mark the publication of Transitional Justice in Established Democracies: A Political Theory. Described by Margaret Urban Walker as a 'tour de force', and by Janna Thompson as 'remarkable', this book by Stephen Winter unifies the work of administrative, corrective and restorative justice in a single theory. The Dialogues is seeking two to three contributors to join a symposium on this ground-breaking work. Those interested should contact Ariella Lang at dialogues@columbia.edu for more information.

We also draw your attention to our latest book reviews:

- Maria Starzmann's review of Efrat Ben Ze'ev (2011), Remembering Palestine in 1948: Beyond National Narratives
- Yves Laberge's review of Catherine Guisan (2012), A Political Theory of Identity in European Integration. Memory and Policies
- Lia Kent's review of Susanne Buckley-Zistel and Ruth Stanley, eds (2011), Gender and Transitional Justice

Read these and other reviews on our website.

If you have any information about calls for papers, new publications, forthcoming conferences, or jobs that could be publicized in future newsletters or via the Dialogues website, please email us at dialogues@columbia.edu.

Best wishes,

Ariella Lang and Carla De Ycaza

Justiciability of Human Rights Law in Domestic Jurisdictions

Deadline (abstracts): August 31, 2014; Full Chapters Due: March 31st 2015

Contact: diver@ulster.ac.uk or j.miller@ulster.ac.uk

Description: This collection will explore the issue of justiciability via critical analysis of the shortcomings (or otherwise) of human rights law at the level of domestic interpretation and implementation. It looks to a wide-range of legal issues and socio-political contexts, evaluating the juridical nature of such concepts as: human dignity and equality, the right to health, identity, social welfare, property rights during post-colonial transitions, loss of cultural heritage, penal policies and the best interests of the child. 6,000-10,000 words. Springer International Press.
